

Rennie Alston

Chief Executive Officer, Global Trade Compliance Expert, Corporate Licensed Professional

Mr. Alston, CEO and President of American Group of Companies, a premiere international trade and logistics consulting and the founder and Chief Executive Officer of The Alston Group International Trade Consultants is regarded as a premiere Customs Regulatory expert, licensed customhouse broker, and Global Trade Compliance and Security Specialist, who holds over thirty years of interactive work experience with the Bureau of Customs and Border Protection, Bureau of Industry and Security, Department of Commerce, Department of State, Food and Drug, United States Department of Agriculture, US Drug Enforcement Agency Regulatory issues, and Global Supply Chain Compliance Management matters.

Mr. Alston received his Master Certification from the International Chamber of Commerce in Paris, France as a Master Trainer of the International Commercial Terms and has provided Incoterms training for the United Nations global purchasing and procurements managers from all four regions of the globe as well as global corporations in the US and headquarters around the world.

Mr. Alston remains instrumental and active in the development multifaceted Trade Compliance and facilitation programs, Import /Export Compliance Control Management, CTPAT program management, social compliance and forced labor audits and external compliance and quality management platforms inclusive of regulatory, security and QA assessment risk assessment reviews.

In January 2022, Mr. Alston was named the Director of the Association of Trade Compliance Professionals and continues his professional commitment towards the elevation of global trade compliance execution, promotion and practice.

