ABOUT
ANDREW M. DANAS

Andrew Danas is a Partner with Grove, Jaskiewicz and Cobert LLP. He represents clients on a wide variety of general commercial and regulatory issues.

Andrew has a specialized knowledge of legal issues involving companies engaged in international trade and transportation. He regularly advises shippers, carriers, NVOCCs, forwarders, customs brokers, and other companies on the corporate, commercial, and regulatory obligations they may have both in the United States and abroad. He is an experienced negotiator and litigator.

Andrew regularly advises and represents clients in their dealings with federal agencies of the United States Government. He assists clients in obtaining government licenses and bonds and has represented them in government investigations and litigation. He has assisted clients on legislative matters and has testified before the United States Congress on their behalf.

Andrew is also the Chair of the EALG, a network of law firms with offices in Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, Europe, the Middle East, South America, and the United States.

A frequent speaker on business matters related to international commerce, Andrew publishes regularly in professional and academic journals. He is also active in a number of professional organizations in a leadership capacity. Andrew currently serves as the Rule of Law Officer for the American Bar Association International Law Section and is the immediate past Chair of the Trade, International Organizations & Regulatory Practice Division the ABA ILS. Other positions he has held with the ABA ILS include three consecutive terms as Co-Chair of both the ABA ILS International Transportation and International Contract Committees. Andrew is also Co-Chair of the Antitrust and Unfair Trade Practices Committee of the Transportation Lawyers Association and is a recipient of the TLA's Distinguished Service Award.
